Long Acting Reversible

Contraceptive (LARC) ABHFL Billing Guide

Effective July 1, 2019, Aetna Better Health of Florida (ABHFL) started to reimburse approved providers for billing Long Acting Reversible Contraception (LARC) devices on Fee-For-Service (FFS) claims.

Long-Acting Reversible Contraception (LARC) comes in two forms: The Intrauterine Device (IUD) and the etonogestrel single-rod contraceptive implant. Compared to other reversible contraceptive methods, LARC does not require ongoing effort by the individual or clinician for effective use, which reduces adherence issues and cost. LARC is safe and highly effective for most women, including adolescents, women in the postpartum period, and nulliparous women (ACOG Committee on Practice Bulletins-Gynecology, 2017).

The LARC policy allows providers to bill for the insertion procedure and the cost of the LARC device by using and billing an appropriate procedure code. Below is a billing guide to assist with the use of the most appropriate LARC services.
